Comments

“ Elizabeth & I have been great friends since she moved to Venice, Fl. Jan Turner, another neighbor at that timer introduced us. We had a lot of fun usually having Easter or Thanksgiving dinners together (My husband, Dave, was the cook). After Jan moved, Elizabeth and I got in the habit of having 'Tea' together about every 2 weeks. We'd laugh so hard over some of the things the other would tell. She also wasn't well during most of this time, sometimes for over a week or more, but never giving up. She wouldn't talk much about all the pain she was in, mostly in her shoulders and her back.

She was a well read person, going through all my books, which I still am trying to read.

I'll miss our time together, for sure. She was a lovely person to know and I'm so glad I had her in my life even for such a short time.
