“ You are in my thoughts and prayers. John was my best friend throughout our lives. He always will be. My heart breaks for you and for me as well. My life was better because of him. We could always pick up right where we left off regardless of time or distance. And so it remains even now; I know I will see him again one day. Until then our friendship and my memories will have to fill the void. The memories are pleasant and many, our friendship is eternal. May God bless and keep you all.
