

Annaliese Reichert Paine

March 6, 1939 - November 24, 2025

Annaliese Reichert Paine, a devoted mother, grandmother, and great-grandmother, passed away peacefully on November 24, 2025, at the age of 86.

Annaliese was born in Goldbach, Germany, to Frida and Karl Reichert. She was the seventh of twelve children, growing up alongside two brothers and nine sisters. Her early years were shaped by the challenges of World War II, experiences that helped form her resilience and strength.

At 20 years old, carrying her four-month-old daughter, she made a courageous journey to the United States to reunite with her husband, Robert Paine Sr., an American soldier who later preceded her in death. It was the beginning of a life built on love, hard work, and unwavering dedication to her family.

Over the decades, Annaliese raised six children, welcomed an adopted child, and became the proud grandmother of 14 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Her home was always a welcoming place, filled with traditional German music, home-cooked meals, and the comfort of knowing you were cared for. Anyone who stepped into her home was treated like family.

Annaliese will be remembered for her kindness, her gentle strength, and the way she created a warm and loving world for the generations that followed her. Her legacy lives on in every life she touched.

Annaliese Reichert Paine will be laid to rest on Monday, December 1st, 2025, at 9:30 a.m. in a Committal Shelter at the Sarasota National Cemetery.

“ On behalf of myself and Serena, we offer our deepest condolences on the passing of Annaliese. She held a very special place in Serena’s heart, and the bond the two of them shared was truly one-of-a-kind.

Even as they each navigated the challenges of their illnesses, Serena and Annaliese created a world of joy, mischief, and companionship together—truly “partners in crime.” Whether they were laughing their way through a car wash, sharing meals at Frida’s, dressing up for holidays, or simply sitting together as two strong women reflecting on life, they found ways to hold onto happiness and each other. I think their friendship brought comfort and meaning to them both.

Even with her memory loss, Serena’s heart will always remember Annaliese. The fun, the warmth, and the courage they shared will not be forgotten. Please accept our sincere sympathy, and may the memory of Annaliese’s strength and spirit bring peace to all who loved her.

With love and condolences from both of us,

Nadine and Serena Lennox

😊 Thank you Nadine, these two surely did enjoy time together. It was so sweet to see them, “lean” on each other for support, reaching out to hold each other’s hands, or just a quick glance at each other. 😊 Thank you for sharing these fun memories. 🥰
