“ To Brian's family, friends, and Michael, I share in the deep, deep sorrow of Brian being gone from us. He was my antiques business buddy, and in everything he did for us and with us, he gave it his all with terrific wit and enthusiasm. I am so lucky to have known him in my life. No one who has known him will ever forget him.
Rest in peace, dear Brian.

“ As Jeanette and I ponder the untimely and sad passing of our friend and shirt-tailed son, Brian, we feel extremely blest for the remarkable times we spent together. While no parent should experience the loss of a son, we were deeply moved with the loving eulogy your Father gave at the beautiful gathering of friends and loved ones honoring and remembering your life. Brian, you will never be forgotten instead, always remembered by those whose hearts and lives you so richly touched. To your Mom, Dad, loved ones and friends, may there be a small degree of consolation in the thought that death is but a narrow starlit strip between the companionship of yesterday and the happy reunion of tomorrow.

We are as humble in our sorrow in the passing of Brian, as we know each of you to be.

Sincerely,

The Ristows,
Donald & Jeanette

“ Brian was an exceptional person! The incredible efforts he put into helping others, to help solve problems, to fill a need. He was kind, he was loyal, he was dependable, helpful, generous, competent, hard-working, smart and funny. It is hard to comprehend this world without his enthusiasm and passion. My heart aches. We love you and will miss you terribly sweet Brian!
