“ The fondest memories I have of Grandpa Bud are from my childhood when we would go visit him. I remember how when he prayed, he would always get this look on his face of joy and he would often pray and laugh at the same time. He truly loved the Lord!

I also remember being woken up early in the morning to the sound of loud gospel music and Grandpa telling us all to get up to the smell of Grandma's cinammon rolls. I remember how he was always making things out of wood, and how he was relentless in sharing the gospel with anyone he could - whether that be at the mall or the prison.

I am honestly so happy for him right now. He has finally gone home to be with the Lord he served so faithfully and his suffering is over.

Bev, this is Georgia. I didn't realize your dad was sick. Also I didn't know he was a minister. I am sure he is so happy now. But I know you will really miss him. We will be praying for you and your family. God bless all of you.
