“ Somewhere a journey begins at the end of the worldly existence we know...somewhere, a path stretches over the stars and rivers of memories flow... Somewhere, a silence is heard far away and the brightness of the day fills the night... Where the trails of life are resolved into peace when a soul finds its way to the light. May it comfort you to know that your loved one is now at peace. I will continue to pray for that comfort. Much love, Beth

“ I will miss my grandad very much but I know he is peaceful in heaven with my grandma. He was a wonderful grandad with very interesting stories and we could always talk about our travels together. I'll miss him but I'm glad I have so many memories especially of the time we spend at their house in Florida swimming at the pool and eating delicious food and playing puzzles and Tetris. I love you grandad!

“ O Jesus! meek and humble of heart, Hear me. From the desire of being esteemed, Deliver me, Jesus. (repeat after each line) From the desire of being loved, From the desire of being extolled, From the desire of being honored, From the desire of being praised, From the desire of being preferred to others, From the desire of being consulted, From the desire of being approved, From the fear of being humiliated, From the fear of being despised, From the fear of suffering rebukes, From the fear of being calumniated, From the fear of being forgotten, From the fear of being ridiculed, From the fear of being wronged, From the fear of being suspected, That others may be loved more than I, Jesus, grant me the grace to desire it. (repeat after each line) That others may be esteemed more than I , That, in the opinion of the world, others may increase and I may decrease, That others may be chosen and I set aside, That others may be praised and I unnoticed, That others may be preferred to me in everything, That others may become holier than I, provided that I may become as holy as I should.
