He served in the U.S. Army from 1952 to 1954 as a Combat Engineer, and was in the reserves until 1962. He then worked at Chicago Rawhide in the synthetic rubber lab. He discovered his true passion, elevators, when he started working at Automatic Elevator in 1956. He was hired as a helper and worked his way up to being a partner. In 1983, he helped his wife Michele start Quality Elevator, and in 2008, he started Vator Accessories with his step-daughter Lisa.

Frank was active in the community, and volunteered at many different places over the years. He worked in the SaBra Hadassah Resale Shop, helped feed unhoused people at the Resurrection House, and assisted with landscaping at Beth Sholom. He was a clown with Shriners for decades, visiting sick children and raising money for their hospitals. He was a member of Temple Emanu-el.

Frank loved restoring classic cars, starting in high school when he bought a 1911 Model T for $10. He later restored over 10 antique cars, and donated them all to charitable organizations. He also loved traveling, going on dozens of trips with his wife over the years.

He is preceded in death by his children, Frank Jr. and George, and by his parents, Lottie and Frank Sr. He is survived by his wife, Michele, his children, Kathleen, Joanne, Patricia (Mike), Nancy, and Sandra (Scott), his stepdaughters Debbie (Brian) and Lisa (Chris), 14 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.
