She is survived by her daughter Karen, two sons John and Kevin, grandchildren Christina, Jacqueline, Lauren, Ryan and Bradley, and great grand children.

Bunny, born in 1928, grew up in Williams Bay, Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, where she earned her nick-name as a high school track runner. She married Roger Cook, in 1949, and their 61 years in a Christian-faith marriage ended with Roger's death in 2010.

Bunny and Roger lived in the Chicago and Minneapolis areas before moving to Florida in 1982.

Bunny was instrumental in getting her children to follow their move to Sarasota, where her family members still live. She was the most notably strong and exceptional mother and wife.

Bunny will be missed dearly by her family and friends.

Please make donations to Tidewell Hospice in her name.

“ I am blessed that she was my Mother's sister. I enjoyed many years of happiness while she was on this earth. I love and respect all her children and share with them their loss of a precious Mother. May God's grace keep us all close and ever mindful of Irma's loving heart. Richard and Judith Wittig
