Some of my most wonderful memories are the last few Christmases I spent with Aunt Jane. She greeted me into her home like I was family, and she shared her wonderful hospitality and Italian cooking with all of us around her table, who shared in the Christmas spirit of the season of love and joy and being together. She always had her beautiful table set for Christmas, her home made spaghetti and meatballs were the best, and she topped it off with a full turkey dinner, too! I really loved the times that Paul and Justin let me share with Aunt Jane. They had her for several get togethers at their house and going out, too, they would always have Aunt Jane join us! I will cherish them!
