

Lucette Grant

February 22, 2025

Lucette filled her life with people, fun, laughter and get togethers. Everyone loved Lucette and, once a friend, remained a lifelong one. Lucette enjoyed entertaining, reading and traveling but, most of all, loved her family (children: Steve, Bruce, Jacki, Fred; grandchildren: Jessica, Krystle; great granddaughter: Nisha), for whom she would do anything and did everything. She had a tremendously big heart, was sincere, compassionate, generous and genuine.

Lucette's growing up years were in Cairo, Egypt, where her father was personal accountant to the ruling princes. She lived a life of ease and while only a teenager during WWII, worked with the RAF where her loving sister, Yvette Levi, found a job for her. The best part was when Lucette met and fell in love at first sight with an American sailor: Walter Grant, whom she married and remained so for 64 years. Being a military spouse, she also lived in Turkey as well as in so many states in the U.S. including Massachusetts, New Jersey, Virginia and Florida.

Later in life, in addition to friends and family being her main event, Lucette studied and worked successfully as a realtor for many years.

Lucette's last few years were not the beautiful ones she deserved or previously enjoyed but, even in that abyss, whenever she saw you, always flashed that warm and welcoming smile with a twinkle in her eye.

Lucette will be so missed by all who loved her – sincere friends and family, especially her devoted niece and nephew (Joyce and Joe) – and all pray that she is at peace and, once again, smiling with that twinkle.
