“ So sorry to hear of your mom's passing. She spoke so highly of her family and how truly blessed her life was. I had the pleasure of being her beautician for the past few years. Who will share her favorite caramels with me now?????. Loved this lady. Barb Greene

“ My father, Bill Chapman, was scheme clerk at the Post Office, and trained Lucy in the "scheme", which was memorizing every street and block in the city, and knowing which carrier took which street. It was quite difficult to learn, and was all rote memorization. Lucy struggled mightily, but "Chappy" never gave up on her and she mastered the scheme, making him very proud. Mr. Chapman also lived to age 87, and liked to brag that all his students eventually learned the scheme.

My husband, Kenneth Davis, joined the Post Office after his tour in the Army, and was a clerk like Lucy. They often worked side-by-side and took breaks together. He always referred to Lucy as "my girlfriend"!

When a young person dies, we mourn. When a person has had a full, long life, we celebrate. Godspeed, Lucy.
