

Lucy Belmont Laudano

February 12, 1933 - February 17, 2025

Lucy Belmont Laudano, age 92, died peacefully and comfortably in her bed February 17th, 2025.

She was born in Old Saybrook, Ct. February 12th, 1933, and moved to Sarasota FL, in 1969 with her husband Frank and their 3 Children, Linda, Frank, and Janet.

She was a lifelong educator, teaching school in Connecticut, at Southside (FL), and at Wilkinson Elementary School for 21 years where she had a profound positive impact on countless students' lives.

She was an amazing woman, wife, mother, grandmother, great grandmother, friend, teacher, mentor, and so many other things to the many people blessed to have known her throughout her beautiful life. She lived for her family, and to her last moments was grateful for the blessing of living such a full life surrounded by so many loved ones, both family and friends.

Those that knew her can attest that she was an avid quilter, making numerous beautiful handmade quilts for loved ones and new family members throughout the years. Each with a signature star quilted into the design.

Lucy was a devout catholic throughout her life, often donating her time, effort, and money to the church. In her last moments, she was lucid and without fear, knowing that she was finally going to rejoin all of her loved ones in the eternal afterlife.

Lucy is survived by her two daughters (Janet and Linda), her daughter-in-law (Jane), her six grandchildren (Shelby, Jason, Shane, Frankie, Michael, and John), and her five great-grandchildren (Annabella, Layla, Avery, Aubrey, and Anthony).

A memorial mass will be held Friday February 28th at 09:30 AM at Incarnation Church, Sarasota, Florida.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to the Father Connie Scholarship, Incarnation School, and Tidewell Hospice.
