“ Managed the store next to Mark, New York Diamond Center, many years ago. Enjoyed the time I spent with Mark and will never forget the pranks we played on Mall security.

I am truly having real difficulty missing my Dear friend, Mark. He was a true treasure who I will love forever. He was an inspiration to so, so many people.

“ I first met Mark about 15 years ago through mutual friends, and though somewhat quiet and reserved, we soon became fast friends. I saw him about twice a week and we would chat, joke and just shoot the breeze about things in general.

On occasion, I would drop by Wall Street men's store, check out the merchandise and get a special discount from Mark.

He was a true friend and a huge help to many other people that we knew. He always had a kind word and together, we both lost mutual friends and were able to meet and grieve with their families.

To put it mildly, Mark's passing has truly left an empty spot in my heart and he will be sadly missed by many and remembered by countless others in the days ahead.

“ I was blessed to have Mark as my neighbor 4 to 6 months of the year. He became more than a neighbor, he became a dear friend. Mark was small in stature but he was big in important ways. He fought his demons with dignity and strength and encouraged others in the process.

Being a man of few words, you somehow knew what he was thinking. He had a dry sense of humor that often would catch you by surprise, which made it more funny. I was privileged to help him on his journey fighting illness. He learned quickly and it was a joy to see him have control, still keeping his sense of humor when things didn't go as planned. We enjoyed many laughs along the way. His wife Doreen was by his side every step. Their love was obvious to all who saw them. I saw Mark several times every day. He would greet me in the morning, sitting on his bench, as I left to walk my dog. She would immediately walk over to him for her morning pet. He always had a "Mark" comment, shake his head, and smile. I will miss having him there and so many other moments. I thank God that he allowed me to know Mark, if only for a short time. I will not forget him. I miss and love you Mark. Thank you for being a part of my life!

“ There are no right words to express the deep sorrow I feel about losing such a wonderful friend.

The years Mark and I were both working at the Sarasota Mall, I spent almost every break I had at Wall Street. We had fun conversations and I always went back to work feeling good. I loved his dry sense of humor.

He will be missed by so many as he was a friend to everyone.

Rest in Peace Mark. Your loving friend, Jan

“ Mark was a friend first, then he became my employer for almost five years. We've shared many ideas and topics over time. Mark is and will always be my friend. Becky and I offer our condolence to Doreen and her family and to those that stood with her during Mark's passing. May all recover soon and Mark rest in peace.

“ This is how I'll remember Mark:

As a happy go lucky man loved by everyone.

As a very kind and selfless man who always put others first, and genuinely cared about others, including his cats

As a small man who hit the golf ball further than men twice his size. I will always remember your soaring shots

As a man of grace and dignity in everything he did

As a man who brought love and joy to Kathy and me and many others

As a man who loved his wife Dorene with all his heart

I will miss Mark, but I'll never forget him

“ Mark is as close a friend as I have ever known. More of a brother. I will miss the long conversations on a variety of topics we had at Wall Street, We both grew up during the same period in small town Illinois. We golfed. Mark was a generous person who found an interest in the many people he met. He made me feel special. He will be missed !

*Mark became a close friend of mine over a 15 year period.
He helped me in developing a great wardrobe as I was cruising around the world.*

We shared our experience, strengths and hope...

Loved how he and Dorene invited be to their home over the holidays.

I was blessed to have enjoyed our friendship...

Will miss Mark deeply...

Farewell my friend...
