“ On the day when
the weight deadens
on your shoulders
and you stumble,
may the clay dance
to balance you.
And when your eyes
freeze behind
the grey window
and the ghost of loss
gets in to you,
may a flock of colours,
indigo, red, green,
and azure blue
come to awaken in you
a meadow of delight.
When the canvas frays
in the currach of thought and a stain of ocean
blackens beneath you,
may there come across the waters
a path of yellow moonlight to bring you safely home.
May the nourishment of the earth be yours,
may the clarity of light be yours,
may the fluency of the ocean be yours,
may the protection of the ancestors be yours.
And so may a slow
wind work these words
of love around you,
an invisible cloak
to mind your life.

“ Michael was a dear and generous brother in law, friend and an wonderful storyteller. Over the years, we had many deep conversations and he always included his love for Marilyn, and his family.

Our last outing together was one I hold dear to my heart...breakfast together and a trolley ride to shop at St Armands... he was very happy to wait while I shopped, striking up conversations along the way.

We had an ice cream cone to cap off our excursion...a perfect afternoon ❤️

I will miss you my dear friend and hold you in my heart ! 🌹
