Paul Raymond Bienenstock died on June 11, 2026 at the age of 73 at his home in Sarasota, Florida. Born in the Bronx on June 15, 1953 he was a proud Bronx boy from the Gun Hill Road section of the borough. His family moved to Lake Peekskill, in the town of Putnam Valley, New York when he was a teenager. He went to Lakeland High School, and then to Westchester Community College before entering the workforce where he refined his engineering skills.

He designed a system of conveyor belts for FedEx in Memphis, Tennessee, which handled packages from around the world. He served his home community in Lake Peekskill as a water treatment engineer. He also worked for years with his father, Jack, at Mozart Motors in Manhattan, a Mercedes-Benz specialist. Both of his grandfathers, Max Bienenstock and Lou Schumack, were master carpenters. Paul learned a lot from them, as well.

Paul is survived by his beloved nephew, Eric Thomas Purcell, and his beloved niece, Jennifer Purcell DeLorenzo, as well as her two boys, Charles Fitzgerald DeLorenzo and Oliver Paul DeLorenzo. He is also survived by a sister, Linda Bienenstock Purcell.

Paul was a Mr. Fix-it. He lived at his house in Sarasota for some 30 years and has devoted his efforts to helping his neighbors and friends. He was generous with his time and his skills were always in demand. He did a good deed days before he died.

Paul was a great storyteller. He was a generous soul, loved by many, and he will be missed.
