

Robert Lewis Veeneman Jr.

August 6, 1947 - July 30, 2024

Robert Lewis Veeneman Jr., born on August 6, 1947 in Louisville, Kentucky, passed away peacefully on July 30, 2024 in Sarasota, Florida.

Robert lived a very full and meaningful life. He was a devoted husband, father and grandfather. Robert's life was a testament to love, family and dedication.

His happy places included Burnsville, North Carolina where he grew beautiful azaleas and would enjoy the South Toe River while relaxing with friends and family. In Sarasota he raised three daughters and enjoyed a life filled with boating, golfing and time spent on the water.

There was a smile and a twinkle in his eye for everyone he met; Robert was always the life of any event with his signature dance moves and charismatic charm.

Robert's life was a testament to love, family and dedication. He was diagnosed with cancer earlier this summer and taken from his loved ones far too soon. His memory will live on in the hearts of all who knew him. He is survived by his beloved wife, Maggie and their three daughters: Chelsea Stickley (AJ Stickley) and their children, Genevieve, Grant, and Vivienne; Kristin Veeneman (Nathan Schaal Wilson) and their children, Emily and Henry Robert; and Elyse Veeneman, and fiancée (Sam Gage). Robert was truly a cheerleader for everyone, relishing the happiness and accomplishments of his friends and family and even strangers. He will be forever missed, but his legacy of kindness, love, and family will continue to inspire all who were fortunate enough to know him.
