

Ronald (Ron) P. Formento Sr.

March 29, 1943 - February 2, 2025

Ronald (Ron) P. Formento Sr., 81, passed away peacefully on February 2, 2025, in Sarasota, Florida. Born on March 29, 1943, in Chicago, Illinois, Ronald lived a life marked by entrepreneurial success, generosity, and a deep love for his family and friends.

He is survived by his children: Ronald P. Formento Jr. (Cheryl), Suzanne (Sue) Formento, Jonathan Formento (Jennifer), and Anthony Formento; as well as his beloved grandchildren: Jacob (26), Dylan (22), Maggie (21), Alessandra (19), Luca (16), and Joseph (12). Ron was predeceased by his parents, Margret and Carl Formento, and his wife, Julie F. Formento (Reed).

Ron began his career in the transportation industry alongside his father, Carl Formento. Recognizing a need within the Chicagoland area for a staffing agency dedicated to truck drivers, he founded a business that quickly flourished. Over the years, Ron expanded his company to include offices in more than twelve locations across the United States. His vision and determination allowed him to grow his enterprise further by exploring additional service opportunities within the transportation sector. His professional achievements were a testament to his keen business acumen and tireless work ethic.

Beyond his career, Ron was known for his generosity toward those around him. Whether offering advice or financial support, he was always ready to lend a helping hand to friends and family alike. His success in business was matched by his willingness to share it with others, leaving an enduring legacy of kindness and support.

Ron cherished spending time with loved ones and created countless memories during international vacations with family and friends. These experiences reflected his adventurous spirit and commitment to fostering meaningful connections with those closest to him.

Ron's life was one of hard work, generosity, and love for those around him.

May his memory bring comfort to all who knew him.
