

Sharon Ann Edbrooke

April 9, 1945 - January 26, 2019

Sharon Ann Edbrooke passed quietly on Saturday, January 26th 2019. She was a loving wife, mother, sister, grandmother and a friend to everyone.

Sharon was born in Itasca, Illinois, April 9th, 1945 to William and Esther Heimsoth and was little sister to Evie. Sharon moved to Sarasota in 1972 with her husband and children. She later began working as an HR Director for Hyatt Hotels. This led her to her meet her husband Carlos with whom she has shared her life for the last 29 years. She and Carlos lived and worked all around the country, but her heart and home were always in Sarasota where she eventually retired. Sharon was a beautiful soul and everyone who met her was instantly a friend. She loved playing cards and mahjong with her ladies group. She shared her passion for food with her family and friends. Always willing to lend a compassionate ear and heartfelt smile. Anyone who knew Sharon cannot think of her without smiling.

“ I met Sharon as I was coming out of chemo and meeting her was very, very helpful to me. It was at a party at George and Pam’s and we knew a little bit about each other. The contact was immediately genuine and warm, very easy. Within a few minutes we were laughing about the erratic regrowth of our hair, enjoying every minute of feeling good while determined to pass over the less good times. She was fun, caring and we bonded immediately. I was not surprised to hear yesterday at her celebration of life about the many, many times Sharon had a powerful and enjoyable impact on other people life, whether long time friends or newly made ones. I grieve with her family and am happy to share and treasure my privilege of having known her.

With love
